

Waseda

University

Visited the engineering buildings at Waseda University in Tokyo, featuring modern architecture, advanced facilities, and an academic environment that reflects innovation, research, and strong engineering traditions.

Nishi Waseda campus

A photograph of a modern, multi-story building with a glass facade, partially obscured by the bare branches of a large tree in the foreground. The building has a distinctive architectural style with a flat roof and a small square structure on top. The foreground shows a dark, leafless tree and a red banner hanging from a pole, which reads "WASEDA UNIVERSITY".
